Annex

ANNEX GENERAL INFORMATION TAKEN

Company Directors and Secretaries Duties and Responsibilities GBA1 – May 2009, Version 18, as modified by Companies' Act 2006 Department for Business Enterprise & Regulatory Reform

Responsibilities of a company director

What responsibilities does a director have towards Companies House?

Every company director has a personal responsibility to deliver statutory documents to Companies House as and when required by the Companies Acts. These include, in particular:

- accounts;
- annual returns; and
- notice of change of directors or secretaries or in their personal details (Forms 288a, 288b or 288c).

In addition, it is usually the directors who will give notice of a change of registered office (Form 287)

You can notify Companies House of any of the above changes online via WebFiling, using a suitable Software Filing package or by sending paper documents to us by post. Chapter 4 summarizes what a limited company has to send to Companies House.

What happens if I do not submit accounts or annual returns to Companies House?

As a director of a company Companies House can prosecute for not submitting these documents on time. This is a criminal offence and upon conviction the court can find a director up to £5,000 for each offence. There is a separate, civil penalty imposed on the company for the late filing of accounts.

If Companies House believes that the company is no longer carrying on business or in operation, we can, after writing to the company to check whether that is true, strike it off the register and dissolve it. If this happens all the assets of the company, including its bank account and property, generally become the property of the Crown. Once a company is dissolved you can only restore it to the register by means of a court order. For further details see our guidance, 'Strike-off, Dissolution and Restoration' or 'Strike-off, Dissolution and Restoration \(Scotland\)'.

Do you really prosecute directors?

Yes. On average we prosecute more than 1,600 directors each year for failing to deliver accounts and returns to Companies House on time. Persistent failure to deliver statutory documents on time may also lead to the court disqualifying a director from taking part in the management of a company for a specified period.

What if I deliver the accounts late?

If a company files its accounts with Companies House late, the company will automatically incur a 'late filing penalty'. The amount depends upon how late the accounts arrive and whether the company is private or public. These penalties are in addition to any fine imposed by a court - as explained in question 4 of this chapter.

Further information about late filing penalties is available in our guidance on "Late Filing Penalties" and 'Accounts' available on the Companies House website.

Are there any other consequences of filing accounts late or not at all?

Yes. This could affect any future business opportunities as potential customers can search our website which gives free information about which accounts are outstanding. Not filing or filing late could possibly have a consequence on the company's credit rating.

How can I avoid prosecution and late filing penalties?

Make sure your company complies on time with all its filing obligations, not only in connection with its accounts and annual returns, but in connection with all other documents required under the Act.

Isn't my accountant supposed to do all this?

Your accountant's responsibilities depend on the agreement you have with them. However, the responsibility to deliver accounts and other statutory documents rests entirely with the directors.

You should make sure that your accountants have all the necessary information to prepare your accounts and if necessary, to audit them on time. If necessary, chase your accountants. Don't just assume they are getting on with the job. Companies House prosecute the directors not the accountants.

Why does Companies House need this information?

In exchange for the benefits of trading with limited liability, companies must deliver certain information about themselves to Companies House. This information is made available for inspection by the public so that they can make informed decisions about companies that they may wish to invest in or do business with.

What you have to send to Companies House

Company directors and secretaries are responsible for submitting information to the Registrar. There are over 200 forms that companies can file. The following information deals only with the most common forms and documents that companies will use. You can submit most of the following information online via WebFiling or electronically using a suitable Software Filing package. For more information please visit our website

1. Accounts

All companies, whether trading or not, must keep accounting records: and all limited companies (and some unlimited companies) must submit accounts for each accounting period to Companies House.

Generally, accounts prepared by the directors must include:

- a directors' report (with a business review if the company does not qualify as small);
- an auditors' report (unless the company is a small, dormant or not-for-profit public-sector company exempt from audit);
- a profit and loss account (or income and expenditure account if the company is not trading for profit);
- a balance sheet signed by a director;
- notes to the accounts; and
- group accounts (if appropriate).

Quoted public companies must also prepare a directors' remuneration report.

Not all companies need to submit these to Companies House: there are different rules for small, medium-sized, unquoted and quoted companies.

Note - this guide cannot go into the detailed information that these documents must contain - for this see the Companies Act 2006 and the relevant regulations.

Our guidance on 'Accounts and Accounting Reference Dates' provides more information on preparing and filing accounts and about exemptions from filing, but cannot go into the detailed information that these documents must contain - for this you need to look at the relevant legislation. You may also consider consulting an accountant for advice.

You can submit audit-exempt accounts, abbreviated accounts and dormant company accounts (DCA) online. If a company is able to submit accounts online, the balance sheet must contain the company authentication code in place of the director's signature required on paper accounts. For more information on availability and registration details please visit our website

Directors are personally responsible for preparing accounts and submitting to Companies House. Failure to do so may result in a criminal conviction and record for the director(s) and will result in financial penalties for the company.

2. Annual returns (Form 363)

Every company must deliver an annual return to Companies House at least once every 12 months. It has 28 days from the date to which the return is made up to do this.

All companies must pay an annual document-processing fee of £30 with the annual return (or £15 for users of our Software Filing or WebFiling services).

Do not confuse the annual return with the annual accounts as they are different documents both of which you must file at Companies House.

There is a change to the information you must give about the company shareholders for annual returns with a made-up date of 1 October 2008 or later. For more information about the changes to the annual return, refer to our 'Annual Return' guidance.

To help you meet your filing requirement we will send a letter to your company's registered office to remind you when your annual return is due. It advises on how to file the form electronically by using our Software Filing or WebFiling services as this is the easiest option. If you do not have the facility to file online, you can order a paper copy of the annual return from our Contact Centre on 0303 1234 500.

Please note: Currently, a small proportion of companies on the register are unable to use our WebFiling Service. For more information please visit our website.

If you file the annual return late or not at all, the company and its director(s) and secretary can be prosecuted.

Change of accounting reference date - Form 225

Every company has an accounting reference date, which is the date by reference to which the company's financial year is determined. It must prepare accounts for each financial year. You can change the accounting reference date by using a change of accounting reference date form (Form 225). For more information, see our guidance on 'Accounts and Accounting Reference Dates'.

Change of registered office - Form 287

All companies must have a registered office: it is the 'home' of the company to which all official documents, notices and court papers have to be sent. The address must be a physical location, not just a post office box. This is because people have the right to visit your office to inspect certain registers and documents, and to deliver documents by hand.

You can change your registered office address by sending a completed Form 287 to Companies House. The change only becomes legally effective when we have registered the form. A person may validly serve any document on the company at the previously registered address for 14 days after the registration of the form.

Change of directors and secretary and their details - Forms 288a, 288b or 288c

You must notify any change of a company's directors or secretaries to Companies House.

- Form 288(a) is for the appointment of an officer;
- Form 288(b) is for the termination of an officer's appointment (resignation, removal, death etc.); and
- Form 288(c) is for a change in details of an officer, for example, a change of name or new residential address.

You must submit all changes to directors' and secretaries' details within 14 days of the change. You can notify Companies House of any of the above changes online via WebFiling or by using a suitable Software Filing package.

Proof is the Registrar's PROOF (Protected On-line Filing) Scheme. It provides additional security relating to the delivery of directors' details and registered office address for documents delivered electronically:

Company directors hold an important position in a company. They have power to make purchases and enter into credit arrangements on behalf of the company. Similarly, the registered office address is important because it is the address to which all official communications will be sent.

Records held at Companies House are sometimes used to check the legitimacy of a company and its directors before credit or loans are made. Therefore, it is important that the records are correct. Companies are vulnerable to fraud if the wrong people get themselves on record as company directors or a bogus registered office address is filed.

In order to combat fraudsters posing as legitimate directors, Companies House offers companies a free, fully electronic and secure system for notifying changes of directors and changes to the registered office address. If you opt to only notify these electronically, they will be protected by electronic codes and we will not accept notices from your company delivered in any other format.

You will need to complete an 'Opt-in' form (PR1) and agree to the terms and conditions so that any change of directors or change of registered office address are only accepted by Companies House if they are delivered by the secure electronic method and never on a paper form. The 'Opt-in'; form and terms and conditions are available from our web site or by calling 0303 123 4500. The completed form must be posted back to Companies House. This service is voluntary; you may opt-out at any time and Companies House will revert to accepting notices from your company delivered electronically or on paper forms.

From mid-2009 it is planned this paper-based process will be replaced by an electronic system, so that once you have agreed to the terms and conditions of the scheme you can sign up or opt out electronically of Proof within the appropriate web pages of the WebFiling service.
